

Information Paper

Brief Introduction on the Work of the Sai Kung District Office

This paper aims at providing a brief introduction to the new term of the Sai Kung District Council (SKDC) on the main areas of work of the Sai Kung District Office (SKDO) in facilitating district administration.

(I) Coordinating the District Work of Government Departments

2. Good district administration relies on government departments performing their respective roles. For district affairs that involve inter-departmental purview and functions, close discussion and cooperation among a number of departments are often required. Regarding various issues that call for inter-departmental cooperation, the SKDO has been serving as a bridge between departments, striving to coordinate various departments in their work and service within Sai Kung. Regular and timely joint operations are also coordinated to combat illegally parked bicycles, illegal recycling activities on the street, illegally placed transit skips, etc.

3. In 2016-17, the Home Affairs Department (HAD) will implement the District-led Actions Scheme in all 18 districts to address district issues based on the local situation. Under the supervision of the District Officer, the District Management Committees (DMC) will lead departments to solve local problems that require more attention. After taking into account the actual needs of the district as well as the opinions collected from the SKDC, the SKDO will decide on the specific details and the implementation arrangements of the Scheme and coordinate with the relevant departments. SKDC Members are welcomed to provide comments on the direction of the Scheme.

(II) Liaising with the Community and Encouraging Community Involvement

4. The SKDO has been working closely with the three area committees of Sai Kung, namely the Tseung Kwan O South Area Committee, the Tseung Kwan O North Area Committee and the Sai Kung Area Committee. Members are consulted through regular meetings on various local issues. A series of community activities were also co-organized with a view to enhance the cohesiveness and sense of belonging of residents. These include: Cantonese opera for the elderly, gold songs concert and parent-child carnival by the Tseung Kwan O South Area Committee; Cantonese opera for celebrating the National Day, Christmas ball and colouring / slogan competition by the Tseung Kwan O North Area Committee; visiting the elderly and clean-up day at country parks under "Hong Kong: Our Home" by the Sai Kung Area Committee. The purposes of these activities are to provide residents with a variety of cultural and entertainment programmes as well as community involvement activities. The new term of the area committees (2016-18) will commence in April 2016 and will last for two years.

5. The SKDO will continue to maintain close connection with local organizations, voluntary groups, kai fong associations, owners' corporations, mutual aid committees, etc. and listen to their views regarding the policy implementation at local level and by the Government. At the same time, the SKDO will spare no effort in assisting various district committees in liaising with the community and in community building work. These committees include the Sai Kung District Fight Crime Committee, the Sai Kung District Fire Safety Committee, the Sai Kung District Youth Programme Committee and the Sai Kung District Civic Education Promotion Committee. We will continue to co-organize activities with these organizations. Recent activities include:

Examples of district minor works include: the provision of leisure facilities at Ap Tsai Shan of Tseung Kwan O, repair works at the hiking trail on Sharp Island of Sai Kung, etc. The district minor works projects completed during the previous term of the SKDC (2012-15) are listed in Enclosure I.

Rural Public Works

7. The rural area of Sai Kung covers an extensive area with as many as 91 villages. Through rural public works projects, the SKDO improves the infrastructure and living environment of the villages. Projects implemented to improve the ancillary facilities for villagers include: reconstruction of the footbridge at Sha Kok Mei, repair works at Ha Yeung Road of Clear Water Bay, etc. The 21 rural public works projects completed between 2013 and 2015 are listed in Enclosure II.

(IV) Youth Development

8. Apart from co-organizing the above-mentioned Outstanding Youth Programme and various youth development activities with the Sai Kung District Youth Programme Committee, the SKDO set up the Sai Kung Young Ambassador Scheme in August 2014. Through a variety of activities (including seminars, visits, participation and service), young people can deepen their understanding regarding the situation in the community, district administration, the operation of the District Council and the Government, and even the actual conditions of our country.

9. In the previous year, the SKDO organized various training activities under the Young Ambassador Scheme. These include exchange tour to Guangzhou and Xining of Qinghai (including visit to the Atomic City, talks on the culture and religion of the ethnic minorities, meeting with Mainland youths from the ethnic minorities); one-day learning tour to Qianhai of Shenzhen (including visit to DJI Technology Company Limited (on unmanned aircraft systems), learning about the new Qianhai Development Zone and how the State provides support to young people involved in the creative industries); workshop hosted by experienced media worker to learn more about the media and enhance their understanding about new media; various volunteer service opportunities (including collecting old books for poor students in Guizhou and Guangxi mountain area, visiting the elderly, visiting government departments and organizations, participating in SKDC activities such as the Spring Reception and National Day activities, as well as serving as volunteers and masters of ceremony of local activities). Besides these, the Young Ambassadors had also participated in the Sai Kung Dragon Boat Race as a team and assisted in organizing local activities such as music contest, youth Cantonese Opera, etc. to have their teamwork and coordinating skills trained up.

10. The Young Ambassadors are young people aged between 14 and 25 years old who live, study or work in the district. As at January 2016, the number of Young Ambassadors has almost reached 170. The SKDO will continue to work with various organizations and organize learning tours to other places, leadership training camps, volunteer services, etc. though this Scheme to provide young people in the district with meaningful extracurricular activities and training opportunities.

(V) Building Management

11. From time to time, the SKDO provides assistance to the 143 owners' corporations, 28 owner's committees and 69 mutual aid committees in Sai Kung District. With the assistance from the SKDO, one of the buildings at Yee Ming Estate with residents moving in recently had set up a mutual aid committee. The SKDO will continue to provide assistance to the remaining two buildings of Yee Ming Estate to set up mutual aid committees within this year.

12. In the past few years, the SKDO had organized a number of talks on building management covering a variety of topics including the maintenance of fire service equipment, the improvement in building facilities to increase energy efficiency, mediation skill, bid-rigging and bribing problems that may be encountered when conducting large-scale maintenance work, important things to note when handling asbestos, etc. At the same time, the SKDO had invited members of the corporations to participate in the LEAD Programme for Members of Management Committee of Owners to deepen their knowledge in building management. The SKDO will continue to provide support to the owners and residents to enhance their communication with each other and to solve building management, maintenance and other problems in accordance with the relevant ordinances.

13. In order to further the understanding of the public on building management, the SKDO set up the Sai Kung District Building Management Promotion Committee early this year to provide a platform for the relevant parties in the district to share their experience in management and maintenance as well as to hold publicity and educational activities featuring different themes.

(VI) Promoting Arts and Cultural Activities

14. The SKDO has been holding the Sai Kung District Music Festival together with the Working Group on Arts and Cultural Activities of the SKDC and other organizations such as the Sai Kung District Community Centre, the Sai Kung Cultural Centre, the Sai Kung Kai Fong Committee and the Hong Kong Association of Youth Development - Sai Kung Branch. A number of outdoor and indoor activities were / will be presented, e.g. Oldies Lovers Nite (held twice, attracted about 1,500 spectators), Chinese Orchestra Variety Show (attracted 1,200 spectators), Folk Music Performance at TKO (attracted 1,400 spectators), the Youth Chinese Opera (attracted almost 1,000 spectators), Western Music cum Stage Performance for the Youth, and the finale of the Festival – In the mood of Jazz Concert (to be held twice in March). We hope that the Sai Kung District Music Festival could become an annual cultural event in Sai Kung District.

15. Apart from this, the SKDO will soon be holding Sai Kung's first ever street art fair. This large-scale art fair features the display of art works of different genres, mural painting, live demonstrations, exchange of art ideas, forums, etc., with a view to provide a platform for artists and the public to interact with each other. Over 60 artists have rendered their support and will participate in the fair. We hope to continue to launch a variety of cultural programmes and activities with innovative elements for members of the public residing in or visiting this district and bring music and art to every corner of the community.

(VII) Signature Project Scheme Projects

16. The SKDO is presently conducting preparatory work on two Signature Project Scheme projects: (i) Reconstruction of the Sharp Island Pier and (ii) Construction of the Tseung Kwan O Heritage Hiking Trail (including a toilet) and Heritage Information Centre. These include the setting up of a focus group, appointment of consultants to conduct environmental review and advance works, as well as the formulation of designs, etc. More promotional and community engagement activities will be held in the next few months, e.g. thematic talks on the development history of Tseung Kwan O by expert scholars, working with SKDC Members in collecting information and items with historical value, etc.

17. Funding applications for these projects will be submitted to the Legislative Council in the second quarter of 2016. The works will commence upon approval of the funding applications for completion in 2018.

(VIII) Management of Permitted Burial Grounds

18. Through our encouragement as well as the support from the Hang Hau Rural Committee, the Sai Kung Rural Committee and the representatives of indigenous villagers of Po Toi O and fishermen of Sai Kung, the management committees for the permitted burial grounds at Po Toi O and Tai Tau Chau were set up through a pilot scheme in 2013. These are the first two committees set up for the management of burial grounds for indigenous villagers in the New Territories to formulate regulations on the size of the graves, etc. Ever since their establishment, the two management committees have been operating effectively which enhance the monitoring and management of burial grounds.

(IX) Public Enquiry Service

19. The Public Enquiry Service Centre (PESC) of the SKDO provides the public with information on government services, distributes government forms and pamphlets, administers sworn declarations for private use, etc. In 2015, the PESC had served over 28,000 members of the public, administered about 12,000 sworn declarations and distributed about 88,000 government forms and pamphlets. Beside these, members of the public who wish to seek legal advice from the Free Legal Advice Scheme can make appointment through the PESC in any of the district. Last year, the PESC of the SKDO had assisted about 100 members of the public in making the appointment.

(X) Sai Kung District Council

20. The SKDO will continue to support the SKDC in its work, assist in organizing various types of community involvement activities, as well as follow up on proposals regarding district minor works, the management of local facilities such as community halls, etc.

Conclusion

21. As in the past, the SKDO will continue to work closely with the SKDC and local organizations. We will work together in handling district affairs through regular meetings as well as close connection and collaboration.

22. This Paper is presented to all SKDC Members for their information.
